Good to know

- It's free. You only pay once the curator has approved exhibition dates.
- Your photos stay private. Only the curator sees them. If you're not accepted, they're deleted after 4 weeks.
- Exhibitors live within the Upper Yarra Ranges. Not sure if that includes you? Ask at the desk.

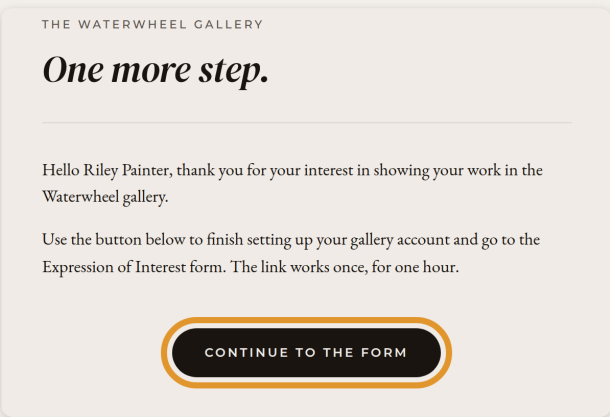

1 Create your gallery account

Go to yarravalleywaterwheel.org/exhibit and scroll down. Type your name, email and phone, type the word shown, then tap Email me the link.

Or slide the waterwheel into the gap instead of typing the word.

2 Open the email

Open the email Finish setting up your gallery account and tap Continue to the form. The link works once, for one hour.

3 Tell us about your work

Write a few lines about you and your work. Tap Add images and choose 3 to 5 photos. They show on the page when you save.

Save for later keeps everything, so you can come back.

5 Tick, then send

Tick These are our own works, and we hold the rights to them. Then tap Send to the curator.

4 What you would like to show

Give the exhibition a name if you have one. Say what you'd like to show, and how much of the gallery.

Showing as a group? Tap Showing with other artists? Add them here and add each artist with their photos, up to 10 in all. Then also tick Each artist listed has agreed.

6 Sent to the curator

You get an email: We have your Expression of Interest. The curator emails you when they decide. Then go on to Part 2.

If something goes wrong

- No email? Look in your junk folder, or fill in the account form again.
- Coming back later? On the same page, tap Sign in: we email you a link.
- Change it after sending? Tap Take it back to change it, until the curator opens it.
